

Gathered Light Collection

by Catherine J. Martzloff

THE COLLECTION

These still life paintings explore the quiet way light gathers around everyday objects. Set against darker grounds, simple arrangements of fruit, vessels, and books slowly emerge as illumination touches their surfaces. In these small moments of light and shadow, ordinary objects take on a quiet presence.

THE ARTIST

catherine

Catherine is an East Coast oil painter drawn to the quiet beauty of everyday objects. Her still life paintings explore the interplay of color, pattern, and form within familiar arrangements. Working intuitively, she creates compositions that invite a slower look – moments of stillness shaped by perspective, presence, and the poetry of ordinary things.
